Get the Latest Test and Measurement Equipment Fast!

Agilent Technologies

Introducing Agilent's Premier Rental Partner Microlease

Rent the test equipment you need, and get fast delivery!

Now you can get fast delivery of new Agilent Technologies test equipment to help your R&D department meet market windows for new products or to keep your manufacturing lines up and running.

Under a new Agilent program designed to make it easier for you to get the Agilent equipment you need, when you need it and in the way in which you choose to acquire it, Microlease has been certified as the Agilent Premier Rental Partner for Europe.

This means you have better access than ever before to the latest, high technology test equipment being introduced by the leading test and measurement company – Agilent Technologies.

Getting you the right product, at the right time

Agilent selected Microlease because it shares our obsession with getting it right for the customer. By partnering, we combine Agilent's years of expertise in technology with Microlease's years of expertise in logistics to give you the best of all worlds – best technology, delivered when you need it, through rental when that is your preference.

Microlease is expert in efficiently managing its equipment pool to meet your need for just the right product, at just the right time.

As a certified Premier Rental Partner, Microlease:

- Stocks a large inventory of Agilent equipment
- Gets priority delivery of new Agilent products
- Works with Agilent to ensure it has the appropriate product mix to meet customer needs in rapidly changing high technology markets.

Whether you have an urgent temporary need, want to protect yourself against the risk of technology obsolescence or want to have the flexibility to quickly upgrade to new technology as soon as it's available – this new program can help you.

Getting you the right product when you choose rental

If you are a finance manager, you may choose rental as an option to manage your capital assets. If you are a project manager, you may want to rent because you have depleted your capital budget or because you only need the instrument for a few months. If you are a procurement manager, you may just want to know that the instrument your engineers have specified is available to you on a rental basis.

Whatever your reason for choosing to rent Agilent equipment, Premier Rental Partner Microlease gives you better access to Agilent equipment.

More cooperative, integrated pre- and post-sales support

Finally, have you ever wished that your rental company and your test and measurement equipment supplier would get together in order to support you better? Your wish has been granted! Agilent and its Premier Rental Partners now cooperate to ensure that you are getting the right technology to solve your design or manufacturing problems. We work together to:

- Match our technology roadmaps with yours to ensure your future needs are met
- Ensure you select the right products and configurations
- Provide training on new products
- Provide warranty, and extended warranties
- Provide 24-hour technical support
- Rush you a unit for any urgent situations

Microlease

One of Europe's leading test and measurement rental organizations, Microlease was founded more than 21 years ago. Today Microlease is known by its customers for its responsiveness and reliability and differentiates itself in the short-term rental market with high quality service and outstanding value.

The company is dedicated to maintaining a highly reliable and easy-to-use rental service. It provides around-the-clock support and makes administration and control easy with services such as rental status reporting and one call return to end the rental period immediately. Microlease prides itself in listening to its customers, solving their problems and doing whatever it takes to get equipment where it is needed, when it is needed.

Microlease's large inventory and excellent logistics means you can get what you need quickly.
