Biography

S. Gordon Walsh
Executive Vice President and
Chief Financial Officer
L-3 Integrated Systems Group

S. Gordon Walsh is the Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer for L-3 Integrated Systems Group (L-3 IS). Appointed to Executive Vice President in December 2008, he is responsible for executive oversight of the System Field Support and Military Aviation Services divisions as well as continuing in the role of Chief Financial Officer.

Prior to joining L-3 IS, he was the Group CFO for the L-3 Sensors and Simulation Group reporting to Jim Dunn. Before advancing to the Group CFO of Sensors and Simulation, Walsh served as division Chief Financial Officer at Link Simulation and Training in Arlington, Texas.

Upon joining L-3 Communications in 1998, Walsh served as a Corporate Director of Special Projects. His first assignment was acting Division Controller at L-3 Ocean Systems division, then a newly acquired business for the company.

Before coming to L-3, Walsh held key financial positions at major aerospace and accounting firms. At Lockheed Martin, he was Controller of the Eagan, Minn., operations. Before this, he worked at Loral as Internal Audit Manager of Loral's West Coast Internal Audit Group, which he established after Loral acquired the Ford Aerospace Operations. Before joining Loral, Walsh spent 10 years in public accounting at KPMG Peat Marwick.

Walsh was born in Detroit, Mich. He earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Texas at Austin and received his CPA in the state of Texas while employed with KPMG Peat Marwick.

He and his wife, Sandy, have two children and reside in Heath, Texas.
