Polytec establishes Benelux machine vision branch

Polytec is one of the leading German suppliers of machine vision and has supplied components and solutions for machine vision for over 40 years. The company has now formed a sales branch for the Benelux countries in a central location near Breda on the Dutch-Belgian border.

The new branch manager, the Dutchman Mart Mijnsbergen, has many years of experience in the field of machine vision, has already worked for the Imago Group Benelux and has excellent contacts in the Benelux region. Mijnsbergen can make full use of the internationally oriented services and the product portfolio of the parent company.

Hendrik Schumann, head of machine vision at Polytec, explains this move: “the manufacturers are convinced of our concept with intensive application consulting and reliable after-sales service, which is why we have been frequently asked by our partners for some time now to expand our sales activities beyond Germany, Austria and Switzerland to the rest of Europe. On the other hand, customers expect us to have an international orientation as they frequently have themselves and projects increasingly extend to multinational locations.”
